RICKARD SAYS HE "GOT BUNKED" IN FIGHT FILM DEAL

Explodes Some Evidence Given Daugherty Committee By Others.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 20.—Tex Rickard, fight promoter, told the Daugherty investigating committee today he "got bunked" when he arranged with Jap Muma, Will A. Orr and the mysterious "Ike" Martin, to exhibit motion pictures of the Carpenter Dempsey fight with immunity from prosecution.

"They never did anything at all for their money," Rickard told the committee, adding Muma had told him he could get a law passed legalizing the showing of the pictures but failed to do so.

None Claimed Influence.
Emphasizing that none of them claimed any influence with Attorney General Daugherty, Rickard maintained that expecting passage of a law to legalize the showings, he went ahead and got "bunked" instead. When he found they were not delivering the goods he revised the pact on a basis which contemplated Orr's influence in "fixing it," with the New York Board of censorship. Some results were obtained there Rickard said, as as the contract finally was revised, he testified Orr got a little more than $4,000 for his share and Martin and Muma each got a little more than $3,000.

"I never thought there was any conspiracy," Rickard said.
Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor was back on the job today and examined Rickard. He arranged with F. C. Quimby of New York to film the bout, Rickard said and knew it was a violation of law to transport the pictures into states, but intended to show them in New Jersey.

Rickard told of knowing Jap Muma, New York representative of E. B. McLean, Washington publisher. He said he could not remember ever meeting Jap Smith, dead friend of Attorney General Daugherty.

Corroborates Some Details.
Muma opened negotiations with him Rickard said, about June 15, 1921 for showing the film outside New Jersey. Many details of the previous accounts of the "deal" were corroborated by Rickard, including exhibition of the pictures at McLean's home here. He also said there was a man named "Martin" interested in the transaction.

Rickard told of the contract by which Muma and Martin, who signed, were to get 50 per cent of the proceeds, W. A. Orr a 20 per cent, Rickard said, was to come from the interest of Muma and Martin.

The film contract dated June 30, 1921 was on the stationery of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Rickard told of knowing Alfred R. Union identified in the picture "deal" and also identified as a friend of Mr. Daugherty.

Sent to "a Party."
Illinois and New York were the only states where he was fined, Rickard said, adding that Quimby "attended to" sales for the exhibition in other states.

"When did Muma first take the picture to Washington?" asked Senator Wheeler. "Was it to promote legislation?"

"No, he said it was for a party."

"Did you make a practice of letting these out to parties?"

"I did to soldiers in hospitals and other places."

Sent to "a Party."

Senator Wheeler asked if that sort of showing wasn't part of the scheme by which the exhibitors in each state were arrested and fined once. Rickard said he didn't know of that.

"GOT BUNKED"

TEX RICKARD.

Fight promoter, who today told Daugherty investigating committee that he "got bunked" when he arranged with Muma Orr and Martin to exhibit motion pictures of the Carpenter-Dempsey fight, in a conspiracy to show which previous witnesses had tried to involve the Attorney General. "They never did anything at all for their money," Rickard told the committee.

LAFOLLETTE IN SECOND PLACE IN N. DAKOTA POLL

Forges Ahead of Johnson as Returns Continue to Arrive.

BULLETIN.

Fargo, N. D., March 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Calvin Coolidge was conceded victor in the republican presidential preference primary in North Dakota Tuesday in a statement issued here today by state headquarters of Senator Hiram Johnson, one of the president's primary opponents.

Fargo, N. D., March 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—With unofficial returns from Tuesday's state-wide primary in North Dakota pointing to the republican presidential endorsement of Calvin Coolidge, interest today turned to the vote polled by Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

The Wisconsin senator, after trailing in third place behind Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, forged in to second place.

The contention of Johnson managers that LaFollette's vote would have gone to the California had the Wisconsin senator been out of the race, was challenged by L. B. Hanna, Coolidge state manager, in declaring the state has given the President a "substantial plurality."

Attaches of Johnson's headquarters declared unofficially that had the California senator known LaFollette would be in the primary race, Johnson would not have entered.

President Coolidge had a plurality of 15,000 in a total republican poll of 80,000 when tabulation of belated returns from 1,217 of the state's 2,058 precincts resumed today. These precincts gave Coolidge 37,287 votes; LaFollette 22,283; Johnson 22,272.

W. G. McAdoo was unopposed for the democratic presidential preference endorsement.

SECRETARY TO OIL MAN NOT LOCATED; OIL PROBE RECESS

Is Wanted to Tell of Sinclair Deposit of $25,000 in Bonds.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, March 20.—The senate oil committee suffered a temporary setback today when it undertook to inquire into a story that Harry F. Sinclair had turned over a large batch of securities to Attorney General Daugherty and Will H. Hayes, former chairman of the republican committee, to help wipe out the heavy deficit incurred by the party treasury in the campaign of 1920.

Process servers reported that so far they had been unable to locate G. D. Wahlberg, former private secretary to Sinclair, who was to have taken the stand today as a first witness in the new line of investigation. Mr. Hayes has been subpoenaed to appear later and Sinclair probably will be questioned tomorrow.

"Hays" Not Identified.

When he was before the committee some weeks ago Wahlberg testified that Sinclair turned over $25,000 in Liberty bonds to "Mr. Hays." He did not identify the men named and the committee did not follow up his statement.

The republican national committee came out of the 1920 campaign with a deficit estimated at $1,500,000 but announcement was made last summer that it had been liquidated.

The committee adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

At the beginning of today's session, the committee heard a statement by the former Representative Thomas J. Ryan of New York who testified as a voluntary witness to deny the testimony of Louis F. Bond, the committee accountant, that he had had transactions in oil stocks.

Al Jennings, once famous train robber of Oklahoma, is to be summoned to Washington by the committee.

In announcing a subpoena for Jennings, Senator Walsh said he would be questioned in connection with the republican national committee from Oklahoma undertook to put through an "oil deal" at the Chicago republican convention in 1920.

Wahlberg in Havana.

Sentor Walsh said today he had information that Wahlberg was in Havana. If this is the case the committee is without power to compel his attendance.

There will be further inquiry, Senator Walsh said, into the stock transactions of Attorney General Daugherty. The senator regards it as significant that the first recorded transaction of the attorney general was a sale of 500 shares of Sinclair Consolidated in 1922 about the time of the lease of Teapot Dome.

Whether Mr. Daugherty will be called before the committee has not been determined.

Landmark of World's Fair Scene of Fire

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, March 20.—Three persons were overcome by smoke and damage estimated at $250,000 resulted in a fire in an apartment building early today. Several hundred residents and guests of nearby hotels were driven by smoke to the street in their night clothes.

The building, known as the World's Fair Flat, was one of the landmarks of the Columbian Exposition.

Winston Churchill

Defeated By Voters

London, March 20.—By the Associated Press.—Winston Churchill, standing on an independent and anti-socialist candidate, lost his fight in the parliamentary election for the Abbey division of Westminster to Otto Nicholson, conservative, by 33 votes.

WELCOME, LITTLE STRANGER!

CLEAN UP, SPRING'S HERE!

All right, folks, haul out the spade and the hoe, the paint brush and the broom, the new duds and the spring tonic, for today's the first day of spring.

No matter what kind of weather we're having—sunshine, rain and winter's really departed.

The weather man would probably tell you, in his technical language, that today is the day that the sun reaches the vernal equinox. That means that the axis of the earth is at right angles to the direction of the sun and that day and night are exactly equal. After today, the days will grow longer.

But now that you really know spring is here, wouldn't it be a good idea to start cleaning up that back yard of yours? And painting your house? And raking up the rubbish? The Telegraph wants to see Dixon thoroughly overhauled and cleaned up and dressed up for spring. Remember, you're only being asked to do for your own home what you do for yourself.

You usually overhaul yourself with a spring tonic, don't you? And buy new clothes for Easter?

Well, then, why not do your share toward dressing up Dixon by cleaning up your own home and doing your bit to make your whole neighborhood more presentable?

SPRING ARRIVES TODAY; GREETED WITH SNOW

By Associated Press Leased Wire

McAdoo Wins Georgia By 4 to 1 Majority

Atlanta, Ga., March 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—W. G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, swept Georgia yesterday in the Democratic presidential primary, defeating Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, 4 to 1.

Returns received by newspapers today from all but five out of the 150 counties in the state show that McAdoo carried 120 counties with a total convention vote of 326 as against 30 counties with a total convention vote of 68 for Underwood.

McAdoo, Georgia's native son, carried Cobb county, where he was born, by a large majority, but lost Baldwin, his boyhood county.

MIDWEST STILL IN GRIP OF OLD WINTER SEASON

Central Illinois Today Experienced Severe Fall of Snow.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, March 20.—Spring officially arrived today by reason of leap year, one day earlier than usual by the calendar date, greeted by a stormy situation in the midwest with forecasts of snow tonight or tomorrow in virtually every state in this forecast district.

Three storms are causing precipitation in the Great Central Valleys, plains states and northern Rocky Mountain region with the Mississippi Valley affected by the storm which had brought 9 inches of snow in Oklahoma yesterday with prospects of further snow in Missouri and adjacent territory tonight.

SNOW IN ILLINOIS.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Peoria, Ill., March 20.—Official opening of spring finds central Illinois enveloped in an equinoctial snow storm which threatens to give this section the deepest fall of the entire winter. More than three inches of snow fell in two hours this morning and at noon the fall was so dense as

Hill Den Holstein Gave 1000 Pounds of Butter in One Year

A year's test of Johanna Segis Marjorie, a five year old pure bred Holstein cow, at the Henry Hey Hill Den farm west of Dixon, which ended last night, established the animal as the first in Lee county to give over 1000 pounds of butter in a year. Her record for the year was 1010 pounds of butter and 24,650 pounds of milk. Mr. Hey is justly proud of his herd of 70 Holsteins, everyone of which was recently tested by County Veterinarian Baur. Not a single reactor was found, the herd being pronounced perfectly clean.

To impede traffic. This is the thirteenth out of the last fifteen days on which snow has fallen here. A high north wind is piling the snow in drifts where the ground is frozen. The temperature reads 34.

Three Opponents for Yanks Seen By Clarke

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, March 20.—Detroit, Cleveland and Philadelphia will seriously obstruct the attempt of the New York Yankees to win their fourth consecutive American League pennant, Fred Clarke, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates said yesterday at Saratoga.

The Athletics were the most improved team in baseball, he said. Commenting upon the condition of George Sisler, Clarke stated that the Browns manager gave him a look of defective vision and that he should play in the outfield and not at first base until he feels sure of himself.

Church is Appointed Highway Patrolman

Kenneth L. Church of this city has resigned his position at the Borden Milk factory to accept a commission in the Illinois State Highway patrol force. Officer Church has been sworn into the service and will soon be outfitted with uniform and motorcycle and he will probably be assigned at least temporarily to the section between Rochelle and the Mississippi river.

ESSINGTON WILL SPEAK IN DIXON NEXT WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Medill McCormick Will Also Address Local Voters.

The recently organized Women's Essington League of Lee county has arranged for the holding of a Republican rally at the Dixon theater at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, March 26.

Senator Thurlow G. Essington of Streator, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will be present and will speak. Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of the senior United States Senator from Illinois, will accompany Senator Essington. Senator McCormick is also a candidate for a succeeding term as senator, subject to the primary on April 8.

Mrs. McCormick and Senator Essington, and perhaps other speakers will reach Dixon at 12:55 from Chicago, and will taken immediately to the Dixon theater, where a reception will be held, in the lobby of the theater until 2 o'clock, when the speaking will commence promptly, owing to the fact that the speakers must return to Chicago on the 4 o'clock train in order to address several meetings there that evening.

Mrs. McCormick is nationally known as one of the most brilliant speakers among the women of our country. She will discuss the issues of the present campaign.

Senator Essington, candidate for governor, will take up the questions awaiting the decision of the Republican voters at the primary election on April 8.

All voters, both men and women, are urged to attend the reception at 1 o'clock and the meeting at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

STORY OF SLOW DEATH IS TOLD OVER TELEPHONE

Trapped Sailors in U-boat Report Their Experiences.

Tokio, March 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Graphic descriptions of the emotions of 18 men facing a slow death from suffocation are being received by underwater telephone from survivors trapped within the Japanese navy submarine 43, resting on the sea bottom off Sasebo harbor, according to dispatches today to the navy office here from the Sasebo naval base.

Through the underwater telephone communication which has been established, it was determined that 24 men and two officers, including Commander Kuwamura, perished when the forward compartment was flooded as a result of the shattering of the conning tower in a collision yesterday with the warship Tatsuwa. Two engineer officers and 16 men still are alive and by means of the telephone vivid stories of their sufferings are being heard by rescue workers.

Ten divers were striving to attach chains by which the submarine could be pulled up with heavy winches.

The collision which sent the craft to the bottom in 26 fathoms of water occurred just as the submarine was coming to the surface with her periscope showing.

From a Booster.

Concerning the situation The Telegraph has been handed the following communication by a real Dixon booster which is too pertinent for People's Column, in which its author asked to have it appear, and accordingly the Editor is giving it "first page position":

The average man is under the impression he wants a democratic Chamber of Commerce. But he doesn't. He will help form an organization, elect twelve capable men to direct it; instead of boosting them, he will to the barber on the corner that twelve directors should not have him; a paid secretary, should build five houses to relieve the housing shortage, should get Henry Ford to build a factory here, should add two shoe factories, and even should have will reduce this or that.

That man is on the outside, looking in and knows nothing of the inside of affairs; but he will tell his friends he is right and the twelve directors are wrong. He will refuse to lend his assistance and co-operate with them because John Smith was elected by the membership to a presidency; he is right, the 300 men that elected Smith are wrong again.

He will be appointed one of the committee of eight to assist in an enterprise but will refuse to serve because the other seven members don't agree with him; again he is right and the seven are wrong. He will refuse to assist on a committee to collect dues because his advice was not followed in putting up road signs. He will refuse to serve on a committee because he and the chairman do not agree politically. He will want to know how the organization is to run, but in no way will he believe directors elected are capable of running it. He will be slighted if he is not elected on the board; if he is elected he will not say anything. His dissatisfaction at board meeting, but at the restaurant he will tell his friends that the board is like a bunch of "old women." He will attend meetings, but will not help to get anything done. He does not realize that he is one of them and that if he would voice his views at the meetings instead of at the office—the Chamber might have accomplished something during his administration. He would finally quit because the other eleven didn't look at things in his way. How can it be done?

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

PUTS IN HIS OAR

Dear Editor: I would like to put in my oar and give a few of my convictions. Don't you really think that this Sunday night show business is a matter of conscience alone. Titus 1:15 says: "Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving, is nothing pure, but even their mind and conscience is defiled."
Some might quote 1 Timothy 4:1-2, and say our conscience could not be trusted viz: "Now the spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils. (2) Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron."
It is not then a question whether we believe the Bible is true or not. Would we care to take Christ to the show on Sunday eve? I would much rather be in a church pew when the world comes to an end than a Sunday night show presuming it to happen on the Sabbath. Some argue: "You can't force me to go to church by closing the theater." Let them look themselves over in the mirror and see if they are proud of what they see. There will be a reckoning some time and there is an old time saying: "The mills of the Gods grind exceedingly slow, but they grind exceedingly fine."
Now I don't intend to give you the impression that I am a little tin god on wheels or sprouting wings for I used to go of and on to a Sunday night show but when you stop and think of the risk you run in losing your own personal soul. Supposing as I mentioned before you should die on Sunday night in a show, wouldn't it be nice to say to the Lord, "I believed in Sunday night shows, so I went. Of course I didn't expect to pass in my chips there but nevertheless, there I died." Wouldn't the Lord welcome us with open arms?
We all know man is prone to sin but the scripture explain 1 Cor. 2:14 But the natural man receiveth not the things of the spirit of God, for they are foolish unto him: Neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."
To sum it all up its either a question whether you are a Christian or not. Those who go and call themselves Christians are like warm Christians at best and there is nothing worse than a lukewarm Christian unless it is indifference. Personally I am making it strong, but on the Judgment day I really don't know what excuse I can put up for the few times I indulged in this particular forbidden pleasure.
Now I have no axe to grind and Mr. Rorer has always treated me courteously as he treats everybody else. But its a paying business and it hurts like the devil for anybody to quit making money even if it is the Sabbath day. Those interested in taxes fuss too, but didn't they fuss when saloons were abolished. W. J. Bryan

ALL THE MEN THINK THIS A HUGE JOKE

A woman went to a hotel unaccompanied and discovered that the acoustical properties of her room were such that every time she spoke aloud there was an echo. She then made a bold attempt to get in a last word and talked herself to death.

G. R. C. of Grace Church in Meeting

The G. R. C. of Grace Evangelical church met Monday evening with Rev. and Mrs. F. Brandteller with about forty members and friends in attendance, each wearing something in green in keeping with St. Patrick's day.

The house was prettily decorated in green and white. After the business session and games a surprise was given Miss Mary Johnson in the form of a miscellaneous shower. Miss Johnson received many beautiful and useful gifts. Her engagement to Charles Stork of Lisbon, Iowa, has been announced, the wedding to be in the near future.

Mrs. Eisenberg, Mrs. Hazel Emmert of Austin and Mrs. Andrew Reiger of Lisbon, Iowa, were out-of-town guests. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—Dried in Air.

Wet furs should always be dried in the air, but away from heat if you wish to keep them in the best condition.

Grated Cheese.
If you serve grated cheese with your soup the nutritive value will be much greater.

Fish Cakes.
Leftover fish may be made into delicious fish cakes by mixing with cornmeal mush in the proportion of two cups of meal and one of fish, held together by an egg. Green pepper or onion juice may be added for flavor.

Removes Dust.
A small hand bellows is a valuable accessory for removing dust from deep carvings or corners inaccessible for a dustcloth.

Griddle Cakes.
In England, griddle cakes are made very thin, spread with sugar or jelly and rolled like jelly cakes and served as a dessert.

Removing Stains.
Remove fruit stains by soaking them half an hour in cold water, then pour boiling water through them and dry immediately.

Box Couch.
When storage space is lacking, a box couch is a very valuable acquisition.

REGULAR MEETING
EASTERN STAR—
There will be a regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star Friday evening in Masonic Hall. A good attendance is desired.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY, BREAKFAST.

Sister Mary Tells How to Put Variety Into Morning Meal.

Many persons say they have no appetite for breakfast and want only a cup of coffee.

But school children and men and women who must work need wholesome food to break their fast and start the day.

If the luncheon must consist mainly of sandwiches the breakfast should provide some protein as well as starch and fat.

A large dish of well-cooked cereal with plenty of rich cream is almost a perfect breakfast. Served with crisp toast and either fresh or dried fruit such a breakfast is well balanced and satisfying enough for the average needs.

But many find rich cream on hot cereal difficult to digest and the necessary amount of cereal to carry a busy person through the day so large that it becomes impossible.

For these a breakfast of bacon and eggs with bran or corn meal muffins should be planned. Fresh or stewed fruit can be chosen.

One Course.
Breakfast should be a pleasant, attractive meal, but the woman who does her own work should devise breakfast requiring as few dishes for washing as possible. To this end one-course breakfasts will help.

If the cereal can be combined with the fruit, well and good. But if not serve only the fruit and let the main part of the breakfast be hearty enough to satisfy without a cereal.

Griddle cakes made with eggs, French toast, muffins made with eggs are protein foods to some extent, but do not supply sufficient calories to make a hearty breakfast. Eggs poached, boiled, in an omelet, stirred, lightly scrambled, served with toast, furnish the simplest and quickest protein.

When cereal is served do not serve hot cereal muffins; use crisp buttered toast.

Apples.
Even if you are dependent on apples as your chief breakfast fruit there are many different ways of serving them. A cold, juicy apple makes a most acceptable appetizer. If the men won't take time to eat it, it's worth any woman's time to pare and quarter, remove the core and arrange the quarters neatly on a plate just before breakfast. No man can resist an apple that's all ready for him to eat.

Orange juice and grapefruit juice are always good. A little sugar should be added to grapefruit juice.

Stewed dried fruits are excellent winter breakfast fruits, furnishing sugar as well as mineral salts. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

SURPRISE AT BROTHERS LADIES' AID

Wednesday the Ladies of the Church of the Brethren met as usual at the parsonage to quilt. The pastor's wife did not suspect anything unusual, but was greatly surprised at the noon hour. Upon coming downstairs to prepare a luncheon for her family, she found the table pulled out to its full length and filled with good things. In the kitchen were a number of ladies busily and silently preparing a tempting dinner. Twelve sat down to the table and all enjoyed a surprise dinner. The pastor and his wife felt ten years younger after the delicious meal and the social companionship.

The Dixon dentists generously give of their time and skill to the cause of the health and welfare of the growing girls and boys of Dixon. Has Hair Bobbed at Age of Hundred

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Los Angeles, March 20.—Mrs. Elizabeth Goodrich, who journeyed west from Beaver Dam, Pa., in a covered wagon in 1842, and had her hair bobbed in a Los Angeles barber shop in 1924, celebrated her 100th birthday at her home today.

What distinguishes the girl of 1842 from the 1924 flapper, said Mrs. Goodrich, is not the latter's haircut, but the former's habit of taking her evening spin at the spinning wheel.

Prairieville Social Circle Meeting

There were thirty-three members, four guests and fifteen children present at the regular meeting of the Prairieville Social Circle yesterday at the home of Mrs. Willis Tillman.

At noon the picnic dinner was served, the table being beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ferns. Potted plants throughout the house were also much admired.

After the appetizing dinner was served, the hostess serving children as her share of the unusually enjoyable repast, the devotions were given and the business meeting followed.

The members responded with sixty dozen eggs in response to the invitation to bring eggs to send to the sanitarium for tubercular soldiers at Oak Park. These make two thirty-dozen cases and it surely is a fine offering for the sick boys.

After a very enjoyable and profitable day the members dispersed to meet next time, April 2nd, with Mrs.

After the meeting was closed, the hostesses, Misses Grace Johnson and Lillian Koerper served very delicious refreshments to all.

LULLABY

Golden slumbers kiss your eyes,
Smiles awake you when you rise.

Sleep, pretty wantons; do not cry,
And I will sing a lullaby:

Rock them, rock them, lullaby.

Care is heavy, therefore sleep you;
You are care, and care must keep you.

Sleep, pretty wantons; do not cry,
And I will sing a lullaby:

Rock them, rock them, lullaby.

Man's Need of Love and Sympathy

Read Matt. 25:31-40. Text 25:36. I was sick and ye visited me.

"There is in man's nature an elemental outcry for two things: (1) unity, and (2) sympathy. The instinctive desire for unity in the universe is the persistent incentive to scientific investigation. The instinctive and more widespread desire to find sympathy is at the basis of religion. This cry for unity and sympathy is essentially the cry for God."

MEDITATION: Man needs sympathy far more than he needs any material thing. The great contents of life are spiritual contents and it is in the souls of men that battles are fought and won. Love and sympathy are the forces which reinforce the lagging powers of heart and brain and give one the courage to endure to the end.

PERSONAL QUESTION: What can I do today for someone who is sick in body, mind or soul?

Five Met Death When Jap Dirigible Burs

Tokio, March 19.—(By the Associated Press)—A small naval dirigible caught fire and fell late today in Ibaraki prefecture, northeast of Tokyo, killing the crew of five men. The body of the commander was the only one found, the other four probably having leaped from the blazing airship before it plunged into a forest.

For Good Clothes

You should take time to visit our store. We confidently believe you'll be impressed with the Quality Clothes we are now showing.

There are coats and dresses with a certain "touch and go" that will make a woman feel as fit as she looks on Easter morning. "Friendly" garments, every one of them, because they'll hold trade for us by pleasing the women who wear them.

Right now you will find also a complete line of new goods in every department. Much care was exercised in the selection of these Spring Goods. This is one of the stores always looking ahead—always planning to anticipate its customers future needs and providing for them. Come in during the week—we'll be more than pleased to "just show" you anything in which you are interested.

LABOR STRONG FOR GOV. SMALL.

The officers of seven labor unions at Dixon, the home town of Senator Thurlow Essington, have issued to the public a signed statement opposing the election of the Senator to the Governorship. In the statement it is claimed that Senator Essington favored bills which were inimical to both labor and the farmers and that one of the bills he sponsored was so obnoxious "that before the session ended farmers' organizations, trade unions and even the manufacturers' associations were all lined up against its passage."
His bill, known as Senate Bill No. 44, the anti-combination bill, would have made illegal organizations of both labor and the farmers.

The statement includes resolutions which declare that Essington is a hand-picked candidate of Attorney General Brundage and the Chicago Tribune and that he is aligned with that section of the party which brought about the deflation of the value of both the farmer's lands and his products.

Senator Essington in the last general election was a candidate for re-election to the state senate and although the city of Streatfield, his home town, is a Republican stronghold, he lost the city in both the primaries and the November election. In the primaries Max Murdock, a world war veteran carried the town by 800 majority and Essington won the district by a scant 419 plurality.

In the November election Senator Essington lost his home ward and his city to a Democrat. Every Republican on the ticket received a majority of over 600 except Senator Essington and he lost his city by 200, losing run 800 votes behind his ticket in his home town. Senator Essington ran over 6-0 votes behind the Republican ticket in La-le County.

Senator Essington must depend on votes outside his home city for election. He therefore, owes everything to Brundage and the Chicago Tribune and they feel they can depend on him to do what they will want him to do. In the last legislature he voted for all appropriation bills demanded by Brundage and also opposed the $100,000,000 hard-money bond issue. In his speech he stated,
"I am honestly opposed to the measure," and his record shows that he attempted an unsuccessful filibuster to delay and defeat the bill. Since the legislature adjourned he is adding the question. He states now he is for more roads but that he favors cheaper roads and also re-locating them. The proposed roads, he states, were located for political reasons but that if he has the opportunity he will put them where they will be the most good.—Toulon News.

LIFE NOW LIKE JUNGLE WAR.

The law of the jungle is "the survival of the fittest." This is the process of elimination by which nature kills off the weak and preserves the strong. The strong survivors bred, have strong offspring, and the race is gradually improved.

The constant struggle between strong and weak strengthens both. It especially strengthens the weak. Cornered, fighting to survive, they develop cunning and intelligence to counterbalance their weakness. The primitive man, unable to conquer savage beasts with his bare hands, invented the war
club and spear.

To preserve themselves against the more voracious beasts and reptiles, primitive men began to unite—band together. So began civilization.

Men have conquered the wild beasts, although exterminated them. Behold, later, nature shifting her tactics—bringing "survival of the fittest" into action another way: The man's enemies vanquished, men began fighting among themselves, the strong dispossessed with a fair portion, greedy to acquire the share properly belonging to the weak.

The great natural resource, oil, is developed.
It is set aside, reserved for the common good, for the whole people. Strong corporations gather about, licking their chops.

The battle starts. Survival of the fittest, yes.
And the final outcome will show that the whole public is stronger, more fit, than any individual or groups of individuals.

Plenty of oil for all, the same as a fallen mastodon could furnish meat to satisfy the hunger of every wolf in the pack. But the greedy wolves turned on each other, fought to the death, destroyed their weaker brothers.

Oil is just one isolated instance typical of daily life—the strong battling the weak, winning when the weak are not united, and the victors later fighting among themselves for the plunder.

Drop $10,000 in gold from an airplane, announce "finders keepers." Let ten men see the prize simultaneously. A fight starts.
Probably end in killings unless police interfere.

Money may or may not be the root of all evil. But greed, the desire to get more than is needed, is the root of bitterness, injustice in a system of economics capable of providing an excess of prosperity for all.

NAMES.

More Johns in America than any other name. After John comes William, then James. This is shown by check-up of many city directories.

Religious names, from the Bible, exert a great influence when it comes to naming the average child. Just why John leads all other names in popularity should interest the clergy, for it unquestionably indicates a very definite preference, admiration or interest.

Once started of course, names become hereditary. It takes courage to give a child a name that isn't as common as dandelions.

DOLLARS KILL HIM.

The whisky king, Sir John Stewart of Scotland, commits suicide. It's said he was swindled out of five million dollars by American bootleggers. They neglected to pay for the Scotch whisky he furnished for transport to America.

If Stewart had it to do over again, he'd put more faith in guarantees and less in human nature. A Scotchman, trusting bootleggers with five million dollars, is surely the eighth wonder of the world.

SPEED COSTS.

The Twentieth-Century Limited was paid
seven and a half million dollars by its passengers in 1923, financial report reveals.

Traffic is increasing on this famous train, which some days travels in as many as six sections.

The "Century," being a speed creation, is typical of the generation in which we live.

DUSTY? VERY.

In the air above each square mile of the average city there are 950 tons of dust. So estimates United States Public Health Service.

This will not surprise any woman who does her own housework.

TOM SIMS SAYS

Escaping from a fire, in zero weather, thinly clad, is almost as exciting as emerging unscathed from an oil tangle.

In Reading, Pa., a street car ran into a house, so now the company must pay as it leaves.

An all-woman jury in Pottsville, Pa., reached a decision, perhaps just to be contrary, or else just because.

A wise man never slaps his wife or selects
the new wall paper.

Shoe dealers, in convention, say men will wear high heels and women low heels some day. But the shoes are on the other feet now.

The first thing to take out of the house
when starting spring-cleaning is all the men.

If riches brought happiness, bootleggers
and many other such people would laugh themselves to death.

Among new inventions is a collapsible grip.
It acts like a man asking the railroad fare.

Democrat politicians' viewpoint is that every republican officeholder is guilty until proved innocent.

Too much sunshine makes a desert, but it doesn't take much moonshine to fatten a

It takes a train only one second to win the

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 5—THE TIN MOUSE IS FOUND

Just as the Twins were Passing the clock.

The rest of the Dooftunny people all stayed behind, while Nancy and Nick went off to find the tin mouse.

The tin mouse had hidden somewhere because he knew he was guilty.
This was what he had done. He had jumped out and frightened the pin-cushion lady, and the pin-cushion lady had fallen on the wooden waddle duck, and the wooden waddle duck had such a start that he shuddered twenty inches and frightened the tin soldier's horse, and the horse had shied and stepped on the peanut boy, breaking his nose.

There! I'm all out of breath. But you see how very guilty the mouse
was. No wonder he hid.

Dooftunny Land was almost empty, for all the people were waiting at the court house except those who had duties at home that they just couldn't get away from.

The cuckoo was one.

Just as the Twins were passing the clock where he lived, he popped out.
"Cuckoo! Cuckoo! Cuckoo!" he went three times.

"Hello!" cried Nick.
"Hello!" said the cuckoo. "What are you doing in Dooftunny Land?"

"Hunting the tin mouse. Did you see him?"

"No—not for a day or two. He always comes to see me regularly, runs up one of my strings and pays me quite a visit. But he hasn't been here lately and I was wondering what was wrong."

"He's wanted at the court house for breaking the peanut boy's nose," said Nancy.

"Why the idea!" exclaimed the cuckoo. "He's as gentle as a lamb.
I don't see how he could."

Next they met a napkin rabbit just sitting there on his hind legs.

"Why aren't you at the court house?" asked Nancy. "You haven't any clock to mind like the cuckoo."

"I know," answered the rabbit, "but I'll tell you a secret. I'm very loose."

"If I move I'll come all untied. And I feel dreadful about it. It isn't often we have a trial in Dooftunny Land and here I am not able to stir a foot."

"But tell me the news, do!"

"The tin mouse," he exclaimed when he heard the story. "Why, he's under that board. I saw him go under a minute ago."

"For goodness sake!" cried the Twins. "And here we have been hunting and hunting for him everywhere.
Come on out here, Mister Mouse.
You're wanted at the court house."

"I'm not here at all!" squeaked a tiny voice.

"Well, if you're not there, who is?"
laughed Nick.

"Nobody!"

"Oh, ho!" Nobody! Well, I'll tell Mister Fuzz Wuzz that Mister Nobody is under a board and won't come out.

"I don't care who you tell," squeaked the voice. "Just so you don't tell the cat."

Back skipped the Twins to the court house, where Mister Fuzz Wuzz was waiting.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

I don't know just why I always tell you my troubles, but some way it seems perfectly natural for me to tell you everything that happens to me.

Perhaps it is because I feel pretty certain that you will tell me the truth about it all even if that truth is not palatable to yours truly.

I thoroughly agree with you that it is astonishing that a man of my "earlier and personality" should have known the love of two such women
as Paula Perier and Leslie Hamilton and I also agree with you that both of them are too good for me.

I can not understand however why you think that I will not be true to Leslie. Certainly you have no cause

Independent I sometimes wish she were a man. I would like to tell her exactly what I think of her and that isn't always complimentary.

In the first place, Syd, she is a better "advertising man" than I am. She has an intuition of the psychology of a bit of copy that is uncanny, and she sometimes shows up my masculine one-track and somewhat obtuse mind
in a way that makes me wriggle.

She was a girlhood friend of Leslie's. Married a man who seems to have been unable to get along with her (I can easily understand that).
Now she has come from Leslie's father's office where the husband is now employed, and although she has said nothing about it, I think she probably left to get away from him.

She has peculiar ideas of the propriety of men and women working together. For instance, now that she is in my office she insists that she will not go to any of Leslie's social affairs although she has no objection of our being working together late to going out to dinner with me.

She seems to be all the time trying to make our business relations those of man to man and yet she never quite succeeds because she is feminine to her finger tips.

No man could be in the room with her five minutes that would not feel the tingle of her presence even if she did not open her mouth.

She is not pretty, in fact, the first day I saw her I thought she was decidedly ugly. A very pale face, scarlet lips that are not rouged, brown eyes that have little flickering red lights in them, bobbed red hair that she plasters down to her head in the most approved as well as the most startling fashion.

Leslie has been at my mother's for nearly a week and I am getting very lonely without her. Expect her home tomorrow and I will be glad to see her you can bet.

I was most interested in your letter about Paula Perier. Glad she is going to let us have the baby.

DEFECTIVE EYES

astounding statement that 25,000,000

fective vision.

In other words, through disease

OUR BOARDING HOUSE BY AHERN

conditions which have been ignored, mainly during the years of childhood,
a great number have defective eyes.
Other conditions which prevail in adults result from eye strain in some special occupation which calls for strenuous work during long hours.

The eyes are over-worked and many never try to effect a remedy. Glasses are often neglected and the eyes become the cause of severe nervous headaches, dizziness, brain fatigue, floating specks before the eyes, and at times, severe cases of bodily fatigue.

There is also the trouble of blurred eyes and redness with frequent styes.
This condition is frequently caused by some catarrhal or diseased nasal sinuses. But if nothing is done to correct such eye troubles, they become worse and worse.

If the disease conditions which produce so many defective eyes were properly looked after, the percentage of such eyes in the industrial world (about 47%) would be materially reduced.

On the other hand, the industrial conditions have become so exacting in many occupations that the real value of eyesight is often destroyed in a few years.

Have your eyes examined when any trouble occurs.

THE NUT CRACKER

New Orleans—Numbered among the young gents who are down here yawning and stretching at the expense of

Jake Ruppert's Yankees is Adolfo

Arguilo, pronounced speedily if at all,

a self-confessed general in the Mexican army.

The other night, sitting with our congenial traveling companion, One

Punch O'Goody, in cafe conducted by Pete Herman, former bantamweight champion of the works, the sound of a shot rang out, followed by what picturesque writers often call a babble of excited voices. Presently one of the ebony-buck attaches let it be known that a trap drummer across the street had been shot.

"Is he dead?" asked Herman.

"Yes sah, he's done dead, but that's all right."

"Whaddamean all right?" pressed the former champion, somewhat shocked.

"Well he'd been in bad health for a long time anyway, boss."

The important feature about the foregoing is that both the murder and the quaint philosophical observations

happen to be true.

Two Senegambian porters stood in the lobby of the Bienville giving the

New York athletes the here and there.

"See that boy over there?" His name's Pennock and he shore can pitch," commented the first porter.

"Uh huh?" concurred the second one, faintly interested.

"And that boy sitting over there is Wardle the great second baseman."

"Yeah."

"And look yonder at the writing desk, dat's Mister Huggins himself."

"Do tell."

"And that big fellow coming in the door is Schang. You shore done heard of Schang?"

"Shue I has, but what I wants to see is the team."

"The team? Ain't I done showing

you the team now?"

"Don't make me laugh, big boy.

Dere's only one team with these Yan-

EPWORTH LEAGUE NOTES

Miss Margaret Andrews was unable to take charge of Sunday evening's devotionals so they were instead conducted by Miss Mabel Smith. The topic "The Farthest Reach of Divine Love" was discussed from different angles by several young people. They talked upon God's love in relation to his justice and his love of the unrighteous. They took account of their attitudes towards other people everywhere—whether they were really living out the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians or not. The fact was emphasized, too, that God's love reaches farther than any nation or any race. The point of the whole discussion might have been summed up in the words of St. Augustine, "He loves us every one as though there were but one of us to love." A good crowd attended the meeting, among them a number of new young folks who are always welcome. This series of Bible-study lessons should prove to be of real value to those who hear them.

The first evangelism talk given by Rev. Moore last Wednesday was interesting and worth while. Confirmation of the announcement made last week that Institute credit would be given to Epworthians attending, has been received from W. E. J. Gratz, head of the institute department in the central office. It is required that notes be taken and approved by the pastor after the series of five talks are given. For those who missed the first study and who desired to attend, a brief resume of the work done was given last evening.

The League regrets to lose one of its members, Miss Eva Portis, who, though she was here only a few months, was an interested and valued worker.

The question vote to have been put before the League last Sunday will be given this week instead. Miss Velma Fay White will briefly give the arguments for and against Methodist unification. The Intermediate surprise party given last Thursday was very successful and almost forty young people enjoyed the fun. A return party, given by the boys for the girls, is expected soon.

Today nearly all the Epworth Leagues of the so-called "German speaking" conferences of the church use the English tongue almost exclusively. There are, however, in some sections of the country notable exceptions, where most effective services are rendered to newcomers from Central Europe.

The Intermediate meeting was well-conducted by Velda Junk Sunday night. Kenneth Ketchen gave a clarinet solo and encore which were very much enjoyed.

The Junior Leaguers are again under the charge of Mrs. Powell and a larger number than usual came to last week's meeting. They are making notebooks now, and are learning the Ten Commandments and writing them in the books to keep. Their meeting begins at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoons. Boys and girls from 8 to 12 attend.

Sunday's topic, "Christ accepting His Father's Commission," will be conducted jointly by Anna Gueffroy and Jessie Stackpole. The devotionals begin at 6:30 p. m.

To explore Britain thoroughly by motoring over its full length of high ways, of which there are 177,366 miles, would take 1773 days, traveling at the rate of 106 miles a day.

IT'S JUST AS WELL

HAL COCHRAN'S DAILY POEM

Our men of facts and figures—statisticians, as it were—have overlooked an interesting bet. In spite of dope on weighty things that have, or will, occur, there's one thing they have never told us yet.

How many married men today are members of a clique, that plays at poker maybe once a week? And, too, how many of these men believe that they are slick enough at giving alibies, so to speak?

"My office work detains me," or "a friend of mine is ill"—excuses thus will always come because friend husband thinks that, with his wife, deduction powers are nil. "Of course my wife believes me!" Yes, she does!

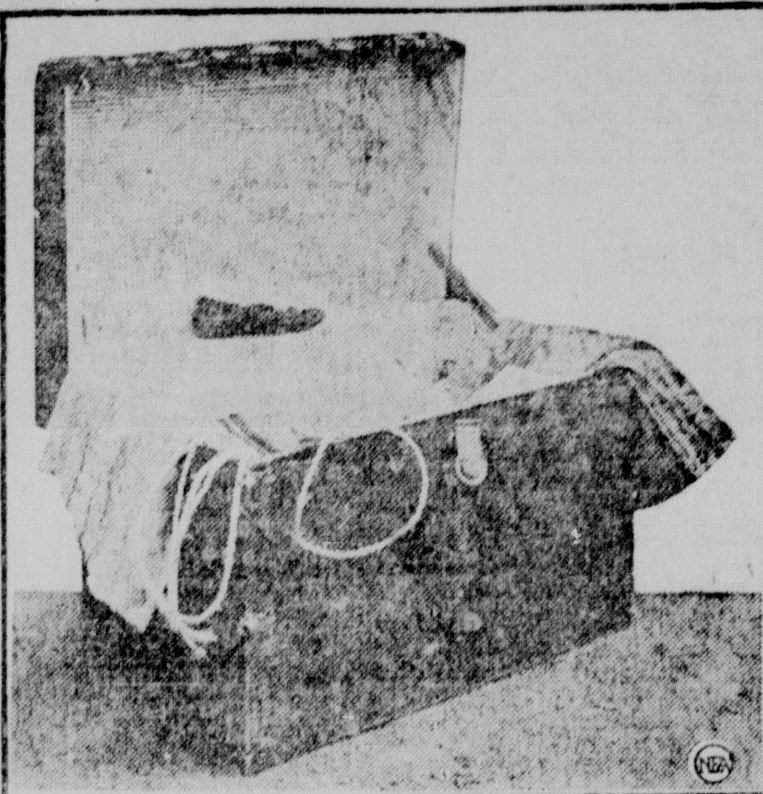

There really cannot be a doubt but what the average wife knows all about these poker clubs, and yet, she's just the type of knowing about who's known it all her life, but wouldn't let him know it on a bet.

For Mister Husband's funny and he still is full of boy; the echo of his youth is far from dead. He has to sneak to poker if he wants the greatest joy, like he sneaked his first real smoke, behind the shed.

So, Messrs. Statisticians, while we firmly still contend that poker member facts would likely sell, and while you ne'er have turned your line of doping to that end, we rise to aid, perhaps it's just as well.

Packard-Eight 4-Passenger Coupe

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Kasper & Marshall, Rochelle, Illinois.

Rochelle, March 8, 1924.

Dear Sirs: On November 10, 1923, I purchased from you a 1-46 Straight Eight Packard Sedan and have since that time driven the car about four thousand miles.

The car has performed wonderfully well whether on slow pulling, up hills or fast driving. Whether it has been a car owned or driven by me, I can honestly say that it comes the nearest to motor-car perfection of anything I have been in.

Yours very truly, FRED E. GARDNER.

In the Packard-Eight, the Packard genius for engineering has achieved more than new ideals in fleetness, flexibility and sustained power, and all-round motoring luxury and exquisite beauty.

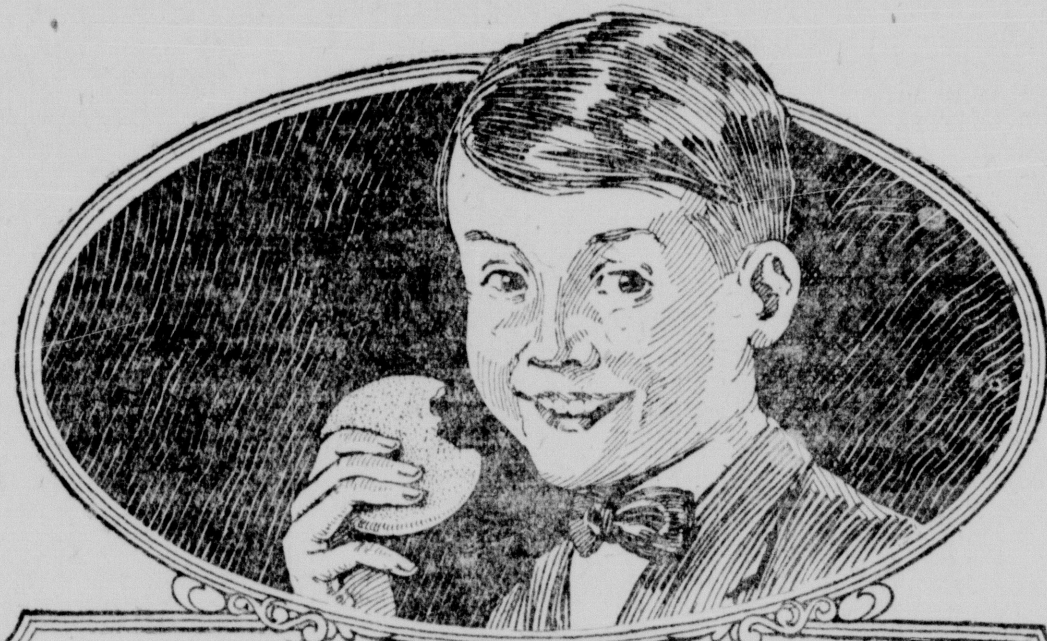

It accompanies these results with an actual saving in the cost of operation and upkeep, which is so important as to make the Packard-Eight unique among the fine high-powered cars.

Who Wouldn't Go Into the Gymnasium Business?

Anyone who thinks this business of being a movie actress is all ginger pop and skittles just take a look at these pictures. If they don't prove something or other, then we're very much mistaken, that's all.

Up there in the left hand corner, astride the horse or whatever they call it, is Beth Darlington, leading woman for Hal Roach's comedian, Charley Chase. The young lady hanging to the rings with her feet on the same old horse, is Blanche Mehaffey, the Polles beauty who is drove to Amboy Wednesday where they attended the annual stockholders meeting of the condenser.

John Bodmer returned home from the city Friday where he took a carload of cattle to market. He now holds the record for the largest check received for a single car, having brought back $1840.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bigger and son James Bigger drove to Rockford the latter part of the week, where they visited at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. William Bigger, Jr., having received word of the serious illness of Mrs. Bigger.

O. N. Daw and Leslie Miller were business callers here from Compton Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Florian Walter have installed a new radio outfit in their home this week.

Mrs. Mary Gehant returned from spent the greater part of the week visiting friends and relatives.

Martin Clark is here from Pipestone, S. D., and is spending a week over from Sublette Friday and spent the day at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gehant.

Eljah Swope left for Howard, S. D., where he is looking after the interest of his farm.

Robert Heiden returned to his home at Dundee Thursday after assisting his brother with the handling of the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lovering were leading woman in Mr. Roach's forthcoming feature for Pathe, "Home-where in Missouri." Resting gracefully on her toes, with her arms extended as if she were going to fly lower left hand corner are Miss Mehaffey, Miss Darlington and Marie or something is Una Gregory, leading woman for Stan Laurel, another Roach comedian. Then down in the Mosquin, leading woman for Will Rogers. Now you know who they are. It seems that the matter of keeping in proper trim for the movies is almost as difficult as breaking into the ranks of the stars. You'd think, now, that after a hard day at the studios, the young ladies pictured above would want to hustle right home, get supper, wash the dishes and read a good book or play mah-jongg, or maybe they do, but they don't get a chance. Too much rest makes Jill a fat girl, and that must not be. So off she hikes to the gymnasium and spends the rest of the evening with horses, flying rings, chest weights and dumb bells and things. But, according to the Misses Darlington, Mehaffey, Gregory and Mosquin, the dumb bells you meet in a gymnasium are far more interesting than the ones you meet socially, so the law of compensation thereby gets in a wallop.

Hal Roach is a wise producer. Knowing the necessity of keeping fit, he equipped a complete gymnasium at his big studios at Culver City, and his players are given regular courses of instruction in physical development.

Constabulary Dept. in State Revealed

East St. Louis, Ill., March 19.—"Existence of a 'constabulary' in and near Chicago, became known here today when W. P. Coggins, a mail carrier, displayed a 'constabulary' badge in applying for a state warrant against a bootlegger, on evidence he had secured.

A force of 100 men will be recruited for the "constabulary" in and near East St. Louis, Coggins said. E. Vinson, the head of the local branch, approved Coggins' disclosure and added that the organization has nothing to do with the Klan and has no official standing but operates, however, "to prevent criminal acts in the apprehension of criminals."

The organization is chartered in several states, he said, and includes in its membership, one cabinet member and several Illinois judges. He said it is a non-profit organization supported by initiation fees.

Ambassador's First Speech in American Heard in G. Britain

New York, March 19.—The first public speech in this country of Sir Rene Howard, newly arrived ambassador from Great Britain, delivered before the Pilgrims of the United States last night and broadcast by radio, was heard by the London Pilgrims.

The British members, gathered at the Carleton Club for the occasion, heard practically every word spoken by the American members at the Hotel Waldorf, according to word received here.

Sir Rene said he believed America would "work for permanent peace upon which a large measure of her own prosperity depends and not leave Europe to stew in her own juice."
